Herbal Breast Enhancement

Herbal breast enhancement works by stimulating or decreasing levels of specific hormones in the body. By mimicking the body's hormones, herbal breast enhancement provides your body the building blocks necessary for breast growth.

Estrogen, for example, is an important growth hormone excreted in the female body. It is a key factor in the growth of breasts and it is abundantly produced during puberty and pregnancy. By providing the body with phyto-estrogens, you are able to mimic and stimulate the breast growth that happens during puberty or pregnancy. Several of the more well-known breast enhancement herbs contain phyto-estrogens, which are very similar in composition and function to the human estrogen. Phyto-estrogens stimulate the adipose tissue of breasts, which cause breasts to become engorged and toned.

Pueraria Mirifica for Breast Enhancement

Pueraria Mirifica is an indigenous herb from Thailand and is known in Thai as "Kwao Kru" or "Kwao Kru Kao." It belongs to the family Leguminosae and is related to soy, beans, and peas.

PM differs from the phytoestrogens typically found in other phytoestrogenic herbs because PM contains Miroestrol and Deoxymiroestrol, which possess the highest estrogenic activity due to structural similarity to estradiol, the strongest of the estrogen hormones.

Bovine Ovary for Breast Enhancement

“Bovine” does indeed mean “cow.” Bovine ovary breast enhancement supplements are derived from the specially-prepared and freeze-dried ovaries taken from a female cow. Once ingested, this bovine ovary works in the human body by gradually re-stimulating the pituitary gland – the body’s major hormone regulator – in order to reactivate your body’s natural growth hormones and cause a second puberty.

Massage for Breast Enhancement

Breast massage is an integral part of natural breast enhancement. By massaging your breasts, you are stimulating blood flow and improving circulation in your chest area. Not only is this essential for breast growth, but for firmness and overall breast health.

Some massages are notorious for breast enlargement while others are better for firming your breasts. There are many breast massage techniques for maintaining and checking the health of your breasts as well.

Breast Enlargement Pumps

Breast enlargement pumps operate through a process called tissue expansion: By applying a gentle suction to the breast tissue, you are able to promote blood flow and tissue growth.

This causes stretching of the skin and tissue and as a direct result of that, new tissue grows and breast size increases. The breast enlargement pump expands the mammary gland tissue to increase the production of new breast tissue cells.

Volufiline for Breast Enhancement

Volufiline is a trademarked cosmetic substance that is a combination of a plant extract known as sarsasapogenin and hydrogenated polyisobutene. Sarsasapogenin interacts with adipose cells and triggers them to divide and grow. When combined with the hydrogenated oil, polyisobutene, sarsasapogenin also increases the amount of fats stored.

Together, these two create a the perfect tag team of creating more fat and then storing them away in the areas to which Volufiline is applied. The synergetic ingredients in Volufiline work directly on fat cells and trigger them to start reproducing.

Hypnosis for Breast Enhancement

Breast enhancement through self-hypnosis is a completely safe, free way to test out the power of your mind and grow bigger breasts. If you already possess the ability to conjure up powerful imagery in your mind, you also possess the power to think yourself to bigger breasts.

You see, the body is a reflection of the thoughts, emotions, and beliefs that are held by your subconscious mind and the cells in your body follow this subconscious blueprint. If you are currently holding onto a blueprint of being lacking in your breast area, you're impeding your breast growth without even knowing it.
